Alumni Cohorts

Alumni Advisory Council (AAC)

- ANZSOG's peak alumni representative body.
- The AAC represents alumni interests and views, providing a formal channel to communicate with the ANZSOG executive to inform future direction, education, research and alumni activities.
- The AAC acts as a source of strategic advice for ANZSOG.

Alumni Ambassadors (AA)

- The champions of ANZSOG, stepping in to mentor the next generation of ANZSOG alumni, while also encouraging networking opportunities with fellow alumni.
- Alumni Ambassadors may also be invited to speak at ANZSOG events or participate in ANZSOG marketing and media.
- The Alumni Ambassador program allows the school to build strong ties and show appreciation to alumni who have supported, stayed connected and contributed their time and expertise to ANZSOG.

New Graduates (NG)

- Recently completing their ANZSOG studies and joining the Alumni community.
- Seeking engaging opportunities to build and refresh their skills, knowledge and networks, and broaden their sphere of influence.
- Auto opt-in as a chapter member if there is an established alumni chapter in their jurisdiction.

Alumni Jurisdictional Chapters

- 3 established chapters in VIC, NT and Aotearoa New Zealand.
- Alumni chapters create local engagement opportunities including professional development, networking, mentoring and more in jurisdictions across Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand.
- Alumni chapters will be managed by a committee of dedicated volunteers to provide opportunities for members to stay connected to fellow alumni and the ANZSOG community.
- Chapter members will gain access to special events, a rich community of mentors, and the opportunity to share knowledge and skills at ANZSOG events and activities as guest speakers, providing testimonials, engaging in research and focus groups, etc.
- To establish an alumni jurisdictional chapter, a group of three or more alumni are required to create a chapter committee, who lead the chapter and coordinate with the ANZSOG Alumni team to achieve its goals.
